The Stardust Arts Angels Donate Art to Host School

8 artists sponsored in the Stardust Arts program are the angels for a school and donate their latest piece as a gift to Garrison Elementary School.

Oceanside, Ca.... 8 students currently registered into a program named "The Stardust Angels" donated their latest work "Fun Under the Sea" to the Principal, Marjorie Oliver of Garrison Elementary School. A wonderful collaboration of several pieces of art all created individually and assembled as a single piece of art.

Each piece was done without the other artists knowing actually how it was going to fit together. Following only a guideline of a pencil line they completed their puzzled piece and to the amazement of all it works so well it looked like they knew exactly what they were creating. Fun Under the Sea is a wonder unto itself and a credit to the young artists.

Currently Garrison Elementary is a host location for The Stardust Arts Program until other locations open up to share in the program. The "Stardust "Angels" program is a privately sponsored program that affords students who cannot or are unable to be able to attend the art program the opportunity to explore their minds.

The San Dieguito Woman's Club of Encinitas were the first to jump on board and sponsor students with an experience in creativity and imagination in art. Since February several private sponsors have donated toward the "angels" with an ongoing campaign to provide students opportunities for a wonderful art experience.

There are Angels everywhere and thank you for helping and believing in art as a viable education toward the development of young minds.
